Building. As soon as the Commission bidders bid her farewell and wish for her the success that her admirers are confident will be hers, that of being selected as the most beautiful of the city representatives at Atlantic City, she will drive directly to the Union Station. Here again large numbers of citizens will be gathered to cheer her on her way. The train will leave at 1:05 o'clock in the afternoon and arrive at Atlantic City at 5:30. She will be accompanied by her chaperone, Mrs. William Atherton DuPuy, and Mr. and Mrs. Gorman.

Elaborate Program Awaits Miss Washington at Shore

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 3.—The week is to be fraught with importance for Miss Margaret Gorman, now officially known as "Miss Washington," representing her city in the great Atlantic City pageant of Wednesday and Thursday next.

Leaving her home city on schedule set by her sponsors on the trip, she will arrive here on Tuesday afternoon to be met at the station by a member of the committee of hosts of the pageant, named by the list of wives of the pageant directors and headed by Mrs. Thomas P. Shilcott, wife of the director general of the big affair.

Leaving the Atlantic City railway terminal, "Miss Washington" and her chaperone will be escorted by her social sponsor to the Chalfonte Hotel, one of the great boardwalk hostilities, where a special suite has been set aside for her use during her visit to the shore.

Will Be Given Banquet

Arriving at her hotel, the time of "Miss Washington" will be brief. At 6 p. m. she will be summoned by her Atlantic City patrons to a waiting room in which she will be met by the Atlantic City committee. Here there will be a banquet, being given by Harry Lutz, director of the pageant, and his wife. At this banquet will be "Miss Washington" and visiting young women from other cities. Mayor Bader of Atlantic City and Mrs. Bader, mayors of the cities which have sent young women and their wives and Director General and Mrs. Endicott. At this first formal function of the pageant Mayor Bader will present certificates of freedom of the city, which can be kept as mementoes of the pageant and the visit.

Guests at Theater

Immediately following the dinner the young women will again enter rolling chairs, and the entire dinner party will occupy boxes at the Apollo Theater on the Boardwalk. As guests of the Atlantic City Amusement Men's Association, of which William H. Fennan, pageant director, is president.

On Wednesday morning "Miss Washington" will enter the great competitive stage of her shore visit, when she will compete with the young women of all the other cities for the great Arnold's Watkins beauty prize, a solid silver trophy, carrying with the honor of being the most beautiful civic representative of the entire pageant. First, she will be asked to travel in a rolling chair to a spot near the Million Dollar Pier where, with her companions, she will assist in receiving King Neptune, titular ruler of the carnival, who will come in from the sea with appropriate ceremonies.

Another Prize Offered

Immediately on the arrival of King Neptune, "Miss Washington" will enter his court as Lady of Honor, a position which she retains until the end of the pageant. In the entourage of King Neptune she will be escorted to Keith's Theater, on the Boardwalk, where she will select for their skill in decision on feminine pulchritude, will pass on her claims to be the most beautiful girl in attendance on the pageant. Judges for her general appearance as she poses on the soft-lit stage of Keith's "Miss Washington" and her sister beauties will have final judgment for beauty of features when a velvet cloak is thrown over their shoulders, leaving for view only the attractive features which have earned each entrant the place of contestant as consolation prize.

William H. Fennan, of the Steeplechase Pier, has presented a prize of $100 in gold to go to the young woman of opposite complexion to the winner of the beauty urn.

Wednesday afternoon will be given over to entertainment of the visiting young women and during these hours "Miss Washington" and her companions may select any form of diversion which they may desire. Their seashore social sponsors will have motors, rolling chairs, or great yachts at their disposal for entertainment and both yacht and country clubs will be open for visits by the girls of charm. All Boardwalk amusement places will be open to them during the afternoon and they already have a long list of invitations.

Bartholomew Revue Thursday

Thursday will be the great day for "Miss Washington" and the other city representatives. At 10:30 a. m. she will come into competition with thousands of the prettiest bathing maids in the country in the Bartholomew Revue which is to be the beach event of the carnival for the Golden Mermaid $5,000 trophy to be held in challenge for three years. There is a special prize, the Almac Vase, for which

Miss Washington Faces Battery of Cameras

So great is the interest in pretty little Margaret Gorman, 3015 Cambridge street, who has been adjudged the District's most charming and attractive young woman, that everywhere she goes the camera men happen to be there. Here she is shown facing a relentless group of photographers. The other picture shows how she appeared at Loew's Columbia last night in a Rizik evening dress.

only the city representatives will compete and which will be awarded for both beauty of face and figure and of carriage in beach rig. "Miss Washington" and her companions will be arrayed for the "Bathers' Revue" in special silken Annette Kellermann bathing suits presented by Leonard Asch, of the Asbury Mills, who is one of the chief supporters of the pageant project.

Then comes the great Rolling Chair Parade on the boardwalk in which "Miss Washington" will ride in a flowered rolling chair float. Down the boardwalk and up the principal avenues behind marching bands the wheel chair parade will extend for miles and will attract the greatest attention ever given to an outdoor spectacle at the seashore. "Miss Washington" will ride in the chair entered by the Washington Herald, which aided in her selection and, with King Neptune and his court, will lead the great floral procession.

Will Leave Thursday

High social duty will claim "Miss Washington" on Thursday evening, final hour of the pageant. On the Steel Pier will gather for the Governor's Ball the city representatives, governors of States, mayors of a score of cities in this and other States and a collection of notables whose names and fame are country-wide. "Miss Washington" will be asked to join the receiving line which will greet the local and visiting persons of prominence and afterward she will be on the dais with the final board of judges who will make decision and award the trophies of the two days affair.

"Miss Washington" will be the guest of Atlantic City until Friday morning. Then she will be escorted to the train which leaves for her home city, and given formal farewell.

SHOWERS CHASE MERRY SHRINERS IN JOINT FETE

Ball Game Stopped in the Fourth Inning, But Parade Goes Through.

Showers yesterday afternoon interfered with many of the stunts which more than 3,000 Shriners of Baltimore and Washington went to the ball park to witness. The program of novelties on account of the rain was abridged. The ball game was called off in the fourth inning, the score at that time being zero on both teams.

Twice the game was halted and the circus was thrown over the grounds in the hope that Jupiter Pluvius would shortly abate his sprinkling, but in the fourth inning the rain became more severe, the umpire awarded the victory to J. Pluvius and called the game off.

Parade Before Game

Preceding the game the Shriners paraded accompanied by a half dozen bands of the two organizations, from I street to Florida avenue. Approximately 1,500 were in the marching line, led by a cordon of police, headed by Acting Sergeant Halseip, of the First precinct and Patrolman P. J. Sayer, of the Third precinct. At the head of the Shriners marched Henry Lansburgh of Almas Temple, and Edgar B. Brownley, of Bourni Lodge.

A number of clowns, accompanying the paraders, aroused the laughter of the onlookers by their capers.

Drill Teams Cheered

Probably the greatest enthusiasm at the park was aroused by the drill corps of the two temples. The drill teams were called upon to respond to a half dozen encores.

A mock arrest was staged on the ball grounds, producing much merriment when its true nature was realized by the crowds in the grand stand. Robert Sindall, of Baltimore, attired as a sergeant of police, arrested a noble of Bourni Lodge for walking on the grass. The noble was fined $50 in Confederate money.

Following the festivities at the ball park, the nobles of both lodges were entertained at Fairmont Inn by Noble Powers, of Almas Temple.

SUPPLIES COST D. C. $3,202,065

Roads, Streets, and Sewer Materials Biggest Item in Increased Yearly Expense.

Supplies and materials for the District government cost $3,202,065.66 last year, an increase of $545,177.31 over 1920 expenditures, according to the annual report of Marion Langhorne, purchasing agent of the District, submitted to the Commissioners yesterday.

The District government's purchases resemble those of a huge household. The fuel bill ran up to $157,515.18, electricity and gas light bills were $62,312.32; ice cost $10,307.35, and food for the District institutions was charged as follows: Eggs and milk, $29,491.14; groceries, $13,870.43; poultry, meat and fish, $192,870.43; and vegetables and fruits, $6,922.46.

The largest item was material for roads, streets and sewer work, which amounted to $733,197.41. Hardware, plumbing supplies, paints, oils and lumber cost $387,457.30; storage, livery and horse-shoeing, $253,502.90; and automobile supplies, $28,064.84. There was $168,718.06 spent for fire apparatus and supplies and $128,151.18 for machinery, engines, boilers and pumps.

Correspondence was also a large item and cost: Stationery, $102,431.75; printing and engraving, $60,767.07; and postage, $14,731.71. Filling of requisitions from schools and playgrounds for athletic goods and kindergarten supplies cost $14,191.48.

M. O. Van Billard's Body Is Recovered From Lake

The body of M. O. Van Billard, 27 years old, a former patient at Walter Reed Hospital and later a resident of Washington, was recovered from Lake Michigan yesterday morning. He is believed to have committed suicide while suffering from wounds received overseas.

Van Billard lived at 746 Seventh street southeast, while in Washington, and was a student at the Columbia Art School. He left Washington to continue his studies in Chicago May 5. His widow and children are living in Chicago.

J. W. WALLACE, SON OF SECRETARY, IS MARRIED IN IOWA

Second Wedding Within Month in Family of Cabinet Member.

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 3.—The second wedding this season in the family of Secretary of Agriculture Henry C. Wallace, and Mrs. Wallace, took place at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, when Miss Virginia Stubbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Stubbs, of Des Moines, became the bride of James Wilson Wallace.

Simplicity characterized this wedding in contrast to the wedding of Miss Margaret Powell, of Cedar Rapids, Ia., and John B. Wallace on August 13. The first wedding was a brilliant event at the Powell estate in Cedar Rapids.

Miss Stubbs and Mr. Wallace chose a quiet wedding, which was witnessed by only the relatives and a few close friends. The Rev. Elmer Nelson Owen, rector of St. Paul's Church, performed the ceremony. Audley Warner Fitch, organist at St. Paul's, presided at the organ, playing the bridal chorus as the processional and Mendelssohn's march for recessional. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Garland L. Rounds, of Council Bluffs, a matron of honor, Miss Mary Hippe served as maid of honor. The bride's little niece, Peggy Rounds, and Margaret Ann Muloch, served as train bearers.

John B. Wallace served his brother as best man. The bride was dressed in her mother's wedding gown, a cream tulle with a real lace collar. She carried an old-fashioned cloak. Her veil was made of tulle. Mrs. Rounds wore a bronze georgette and Miss Hippe a peach georgette. Both had arm bouquets of garden flowers. The little train bearers wore white lace hats and dresses.

Immediately following the ceremony a small reception was held for the immediate family, and Mr. Wallace and his bride left for the West to spend a month at the Wallace summer home in Colorado. Upon their return they will be at home in Des Moines.

Secretary Wallace arrived yesterday for the wedding and returned to Washington this evening.

Storekeeper Charged With Incendiary Fire

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 3.—H. Peltz, proprietor of a local grocery store badly damaged by fire last Saturday night, was arrested late today on the instance of State fire marshal's office, charged with setting fire to his store with the intent of defrauding insurance companies. Peltz, who had $9,000 insurance on a stock said to be worth about $2,000, was released under $2,000 bond.

Liberty Lunch Firm Sued For $7,997 by Boxmakers

S. G. Leoffler, Jr., and the Leoffler Food Products Company, Inc., were sued yesterday in the District Supreme Court by the Climax Manufacturing Company, of Castertown, N. Y., paper box manufacturers to recover a total of $7,997.98, alleged to be due on purchases of paper boxes which the firm used for "Liberty Lunches."

The Climax concern, through Attorney Newmyer and King, demand $2,547.48 from Leoffler individually and $5,450.50 from the firm.

THIEVES ROB STORE OF 53,000 SMOKES

Fifty-three thousand cigarettes valued at approximately $500, besides $21 in cash and a suit of clothes, were stolen by thieves who broke into the Myer E. Smith cigar store at 1806 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, early yesterday morning. Entrance was gained by breaking off the lock at the rear door. Third precinct police believe the robbers used an automobile to carry away the loot.
